

NAME: .....

A. USE OF ENGLISH

1. Match the words to make expressions. There's an extra word.

1.	first aid
2.	knee
3.	single
4.	catch a
5.	stay the

a.	pad
b.	night
c.	kit
d.	rope
e.	ticket
f.	bus

1.
2.
3.
4.
5.

out of 5

2. Fill in the gaps with a suitable preposition. There is an extra preposition.

to, from, for, of, in, out

I have known this girl online for many months. We live in the same town, so I asked her (1) ..... . She was happy and said, "(2) ..... course, I'll meet you. Let's go to a pizza place." So we did. As we were eating, she could only talk about stupid TV programmes she watches. Clearly we have nothing (3) ..... common. Then it was time to pay. I wanted to be polite and said, "I'll treat you (4) ..... this." She just said, "OK". She didn't even thank me (5) ..... paying, let alone offer to pay some of it. A total disaster.

out of 5

3. Social English – Complete the dialogues.

A: Can you bring me a glass of water, please?

B: Yes, (1) .....

A: Thank you.

B: (2) .....

A: (3) .....

B: No, I'm afraid it isn't. My friend's sitting there.

A: What about this chair then? Can I take it?

B: Yeah, (4) .....

out of 4

4. Complete the definitions. Use "who", "which", "that", "where" or no connectors.

1. A profile is a short text .....

2. Your date is a person .....

3. A backpack is a bag .....

4. A spa is a place .....

out of 4

5. Tick (✓) the right options.

1. I have been // gone to the shop. There's some food in the fridge.
2. A: Have you met your brother's new girlfriend already // yet // just // ever?
 B: Yes, I have.
 A: Did you like // Have you liked her?
3. Who is the most awesome boy you ever met // 've ever met // 's ever met?
4. A: Where's Kathy?
 B: She's been // gone to the toilet.
5. A: Where's my helmet? I can't find it anywhere.
 B: Ha-ha! You've already // yet // never // ever put it on. Check it on your head!
6. She's only sixteen and she already won // 's already won // 's ever won // ever won four international competitions.

out of 6

Marks for Use of English  out of 25

B. SKILLS

6. Listening – Listen to a telephone conversation in which the caller makes a reservation. Complete the confirmation email from the campsite.

From starry.nights@uk.com
 To: mary.thorn@co.uk
 Subject: Your reservation

Dear Ms Thorn,

Following our telephone conversation, I'm writing to confirm your reservation of a pitch for (1) ..... people for (2) ..... nights, arriving on (3) ..... and leaving on 22 August.

Price by night for four persons in a (4) .....: (5) .....

(6) .....: £35

We look forward to welcoming you at Starry Nights Campsite.

Best wishes,
 Peter Flinch

out of 6

7. Reading – Read the text below on online dating. Tick (✓) T for true and F for false.

What they never told you about online dating

I'm sure you've heard of the dangers of "online dating". And yes, there are dangerous people out there so you need to be careful. True, you should not give out personal information to people you only know online. If you meet an online friend IRL, you should meet during the day in a public place where there are many other people around. But if you follow these simple rules, you can be reasonably safe.

The greatest danger of all however, is one that you will almost never hear about. The real danger of online dating is Love Illusion.

What on earth is Love Illusion? It is falling in love with someone who you have never met. As stupid as it sounds, it is very possible to fall in love online. People do it all the time. They fall in love with chat room persons, with IM* conversations, with emails. They fall in love with a picture taken 19 years ago, they fall in love with that voice at the end of the phone line. It is much more dangerous than it sounds because it emotionally isolates people. Because you are now "in love" with someone who writes all those nice words, you cut out other real life possibilities. Online relationships can be very socially isolating, as the person "in love" becomes more and more attached to the Internet, and doesn't take part in "normal" social activities. Many people prefer communicating at a safe distance online to communicating in the big scary world at large.

Ideally of course, this period is a short one, and people meet (with the safety rules in mind) and decide if they are in love or not. That's the ideal situation, but quite often people meet and fall in love on the Internet with partners from other countries. Then they may be in a situation where meeting is not possible. Because the emotions are completely real, even though the situation is virtual, people are in a state of Love Illusion sometimes for many years. And that, my friends, is the real danger of online dating.

Based on <http://hopealexander.hubpages.com/hub/What-They-Never-Told-You-About-Online-Dating---The-REAL-Danger-Of-Internet-Dating> *Instant Messaging

1. If you keep safety rules, there's no danger in online dating.
2. People often talk about the emotional dangers of online dating.
3. The emotional dangers are greater than the safety-related ones.
4. Because of online dating, people often become less active IRL.
5. Your feelings aren't real when you fall in love online. This is Love Illusion.
6. Your feelings are real when you fall in love online, but the situation isn't. This is Love Illusion.

T	F
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

out of 6

8. Writing – Read the email from an English friend and reply to it. Make sure you answer all the questions.

Hi,

I'm writing to tell you that I've decided to spend my holiday in Hungary this year. I'm planning to come over for two weeks in August. ☺

Can you give me some advice? Which cities should I visit? What are the most famous sights? Anything I shouldn't miss? I'd like to go trekking. Where should I go? I'm going to bring my tent with me. Do you know any nice camping sites? I would like to meet up with you, too. Would that be possible? When in August is good for you?

Many thanks and a big hug,
XX Max

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

Content		Language			Organisation
Task fulfilment	Clarity	Range	Accuracy	Appropriacy	Format	Paragraphing
/3	/2	/2	/2	/1	/2	/1
Total for writing						out of 13

Marks for Skills

out of 25

TOTAL MARKS		out of 50	%		GRADE
--------------------	--	-----------	---	--	--------------	--